Energique® Liquefied Herbals are derived from the highest quality botanicals available from ethical, reliable sources throughout the world. The process used by our cGMP-compliant botanical processing facility yields a superior product. Our herbals are prepared using the spagyric extraction process: a gentle, complex, multiphase extraction process that renders a more complete extraction of the essence of the herbs than other processes. Moreover, we use organic and wild-crafted plants where possible, and all our raw materials are subject to stringent testing in our on-site laboratory and with our partner labs.

With the Industrial Age came new and quicker herbal extraction processes, made possible by high temperatures and harsh chemicals. These technological “advances” nearly wiped out the art and science of the spagyric extraction process, a remarkable sixteenth-century method that relies on low heat, natural solvents like water and alcohol, and an abundance of time to produce balanced and potent extracts.

Spagyric extracts offer many benefits to both the practitioner and the patient. They are gentle, fast-acting, and easy to absorb. Our entire Energique® Liquefied Herbal line is formulated to complement your body’s inherent healing wisdom.

According to the Rainforest Alliance (www.rainforest-alliance.org) and other organizations working to conserve the precious resources of rainforests worldwide, the current rate of deforestation in the Amazon results in the loss of hundreds of species of plants every year - extinct forever. Furthermore, rainforest experts estimate that the last remaining rainforests could be consumed in less than 40 years, as commercial and governmental interests continue to log the region because of the significant value of its timber.

Through the centuries, the indigenous peoples of the Amazon have relied on the rainforests for all their needs. Through fishing, hunting wild game, and gathering fruits and nuts and edible plants, the inhabitants mastered their environment. Their knowledge of medicinal plants comes from centuries of hands-on experience. By studying animal behavior, and through trial and error, these people found effective natural remedies for a variety of their ailments. The knowledge of this flora and, in some cases, the closely-guarded secrets of the use of special plants, are now being unveiled as the demand and interest in natural healing increases.

There are many advances, discoveries, and re-discoveries taking place on all fronts of the health care sciences, including herbs and nutrition. One of the most exciting arenas is the quest for botanicals from the rainforests of the Amazon. Each of Energique's homeopathic singles and doctor-formulated combinations are prepared according to the exacting standards of the Homeopathic Pharmacopoeia of the United States. All of our remedies are hand-succussed as Hahnemann originally intended, with great care taken to achieve the proper dynamization of every drop.

Preparing quality high-potency remedies requires quality starting materials. Our mother tinctures are prepared in-house or sourced from qualified, pre-approved suppliers located around the world, and insoluble starting materials are first sufficiently triturated as per Hahnemann's original instructions. Though labor-intensive, this ensures that the remedies made from these substances attain to the highest degree of potentization.

Our extensive inventory includes a variety of exotic herbs, rare nosodes, and sarcodes made from healthy tissues, to serve the needs of practitioners using a variety of classical and novel approaches.

Energique® High Potency (HP) series of 30x and higher potency combination formulations are designed to follow lower potency combinations. They provide a deeper penetration of the body's energy layers, and stimulate the detoxification system to help release deeper toxins resulting in a higher level of healing. HP Formulas should be used after the lower potencies have ceased to be effective in promoting healing and detoxification reactions or when the lower potencies no longer test. They should also be considered for initial use in place of lower potencies when addressing chronic conditions.

*Adequate drainage of the area of the body being targeted is a must when using HP Formulas. A possible exception to this would be those situations where an HP Formula is being used after the use of a lower potency 12x combination that may have provided sufficient drainage of the targeted area. This includes our "par," "tone," and "stat" homeopathics that have herbal drainage constituencies as part of their formulations. If you are beginning with an HP Formula, or if continued drainage is required after using a lower potency, it is best accomplished through the use of liquid herbal extracts. ***

*Classically trained homeopaths are trained to identify the true foundation of illness, which can be traced to an individual's inherited and acquired weaknesses. These weaknesses can be thought of as predispositions to various illnesses and/or environmental factors. The ability to ascertain the unique remedy appropriate for a specific case requires years of study and practice. Energique® Miasmatic Formulas serve as yet another step in a homeopath's advancement to ultimately being able to identify that single homeopathic remedy needed to balance on both constitutional and miasmatic levels. Short of that ability, the combination miasmatic formulas presented here are of benefit where one is able to determine the single miasm, but not the single remedy. ***

*Energique® combination homeopathic detoxifiers stimulate the body to eliminate a wide range of toxic substances. The toxic world we live in includes the air we breathe, the water we drink, and the food we eat. Many peoples' organs of elimination have become overwhelmed with the constant challenge of eradicating toxins we knowingly or unknowingly are forced to deal with on a daily basis. As pollutants overwhelm the body's detoxification system, the immune system is negatively impacted, oftentimes leading to chronic or serious illness. In addition to detoxifiers that target specific types of toxins, there are also detoxifiers that target specific organs or body systems. These may be more appropriate when starting the detoxification program of an especially toxic or sick individual. More specifically, if a dysfunctional organ of elimination, such as a toxic liver, is called upon to expel even more toxins, it will typically fall short, causing the released toxins to be relodged in another area of the body where they may be more damaging to the body than if they had been left in their original location. When detoxifying the seriously ill, caution and patience should prevail in an effort to alleviate potential discomfort and reduce the potential for the relodging of toxins. To assist the body in its effort to expel toxins released at the cellular level, each Energique® Homeopathic Detoxifier has its own built-in drainage remedies. ***

Energique® raw tissue concentrates are processed using a method called lyophilization. During the process of lyophilization, a freeze-drying technique, the raw tissue is concentrated in the first solute phase, never reaching the freezing point; however, the second phase (solvent) remains below freezing during the entire process. As a result of using low temperatures, there is less molecular movement, and therefore a minimum amount of loss.

Raw tissue concentrates are used mainly for their rich nutrient content. Lyophilization is a concentrating process, not an extraction method. It is superior to an extraction process in that in an extraction method, some of the desired nutrients are lost.

REVITALIZED WATER™

SIZE: 16.9 oz.

Revitalized Structured Water™ is a hydrating water treatment concentrate. It begins with high mountain pure spring water that is processed in a vortex with natural energies in the form of vibrational resonances. These powerful resonant vortex patterns restructure as well as energize the water. The highly energized water molecules of the concentrate now resonate at higher frequencies and can influence the physical and energetic properties of other water into which it is added. The structured water concentrate differs from ready-to-drink structured water by the intensity of the frequencies acquired. The strength of frequency allows one 16.9-ounce bottle of concentrate to effectively restructure 16 gallons of drinking water.
