First Set: x 1 = ____ ; Second Set: x 2 = ____

Grand Total: ____

Evaluating Your Score:

Below 6: No yeast overgrowth
7 to 12: Minimal yeast overgrowth
13 to 20: Moderate yeast overgrowth
21 and higher: Severe yeast overgrowth,

SALIVA TEST*

Pour bottled or purified water in a clear glass before bedtime and set it on your bed stand.

First thing in the morning, work up some saliva and spit it into the glass of water. Check every 15 minutes for 1 hour. Normally, your saliva should disappear in the water.

If you have a Candida overgrowth issue, you will see any of these three formations:

- a Strings like jellyfish traveling down from the saliva, which floats on top.
- b Particles or cloudy specks suspended in the water.
- c Cloudy saliva sinking to the bottom of the glass.

*These two Candida tests are offered as educational tools and as estimated values only. These tests and scores do not replace evaluation by a healthcare professional.

- Help skin eliminate toxins through perspiration, saunas, and dry skin brushing.
- Wear clothes made of natural fibers – nylon underwear increases Candida risk.
- Consider taking a natural fiber supplement such as psyllium husk powder to help you feel full and to keep the toxins moving out.
- Consider adding beets, milk thistle, dandelion greens and carrot juice to your diet to help the liver and gallbladder detoxify.
- Consider adding citrus pectin, bentonite, or seaweed extract (alginate) to your diet, which may bind with and help remove heavy metal toxins.
- Consider taking antioxidants and other nutrients to keep the immune system strong.

- Practice a Candida-control diet by eliminating or minimizing foods containing yeast, sugar, and/or refined starches. Make this a permanent lifestyle change, or at least long enough for your body to gain the upper hand. Remember that Candida craves sugar, not your body. Learn more at aquaflora.com/candida-diet.html
- Eat a well-balanced, whole-food diet with good fats, lean protein, whole grains and plenty of green vegetables and natural fiber to aid in toxin elimination.
- Drink your body weight divided by two, in ounces of pure water each day (e.g., a 160 pound person would drink 80 ounces, or 10 cups of water per day). Add lemon juice to help flush toxins.
- Breathe deeply and exercise to circulate oxygen – Candida doesn't like oxygen. It also helps the body eliminate toxins through the lungs.

Aquaflora® targets Candida overgrowth with 4 products

Candida's yeast-like fungi release mycotoxins into the body. These toxins can cause adult acne, nail fungus, bloating and other diverse symptoms. Candida can penetrate the intestinal wall and be carried by the circulatory system throughout the body. In rare instances, Candida can become a systemic, life-threatening condition. Aquaflora formulas offer safe, natural, homeopathic approach to help restore balance.

Candida overgrowth symptoms

People with immuno-deficient diseases, such as rheumatoid arthritis, diabetes, chronic fatigue syndrome and psoriasis, are even more susceptible to Candida overgrowth.

Each of these factors can produce an imbalance of unhealthy microorganisms in the intestinal tract by killing the good bacteria and leaving an overabundance of Candida yeast organisms. As cells that normally keep Candida in check are overwhelmed, Candida proliferates in the gastrointestinal system causing health imbalances.

- stress
- poor diet (especially those high in simple sugars and refined carbohydrates)
- alcohol
- heavy metal toxicity
- steroids
- birth control pills
- the extended use of antibiotics

The factors that contribute to Candida overgrowth include:

What causes Candida albicans overgrowth?

Dr. William Crook, author of The Yeast Connection, began his research in the 1970s and brought widespread attention to the health consequences of Candida albicans overgrowth. This yeast-like fungus can negatively impact the health of men, women, children and babies. As awareness of the problem and its symptoms have grown, many holistic doctors now realize solving Candida overgrowth issues helps improve their patients' overall health.

Many long-term sufferers find that antifungals and supplements do not effectively control Candida. Over time, the integrity of the intestines is often affected, which potentially leads to more serious health conditions.

The Candida explosion of awareness

 Candida overgrowth causes many problems.

Homeopathy, the perfect solution.

How does homeopathy work?

Aquaflora uses homeopathy to address multiple symptoms of Candida overgrowth such as yeast infections, thrush, nail fungus, confusion, headache, dizziness, indigestion, fatigue, bloating, food cravings, stomach pain, skin irritations and more. Homeopathy activates the body's natural healing powers by utilizing the law of similars, which states "like cures like." This is a recognized pharmacological principle, even today.

Homeopathy's record of safety

During more than 200 years of clinical use, homeopathic medicines have NO recorded negative side effects and NO negative interactions with other drugs. They were the first of all natural remedies to be recognized by the FDA as pharmaceutical drug products. King Bio offers a full line of powerful, physician-tested homeopathic remedies in a taste-free, pure water base.
